Design 1 (Edisi 1)

The image shows a rectangular rug with a complex design. The central field is a deep blue, filled with a dense pattern of red and white roses and green leaves. In the center of this field is a large, ornate medallion with a scalloped border, containing a smaller floral motif. The rug is surrounded by a wide, multi-layered border. The innermost border is a repeating geometric pattern, followed by a wide band of floral motifs, and an outermost fringe. The rug is laid on a dark, patterned surface.

The image shows a large, rectangular rug with a complex design. The central field is a deep red color, covered in a dense pattern of white and blue floral motifs, including roses and scrolling vines. In the center of this field is a large, ornate medallion with a scalloped, lobed border. Inside the medallion is a smaller, circular floral design. The rug is surrounded by a wide, multi-layered border. The innermost border is a simple geometric line, followed by a wider band with repeating floral and geometric patterns in red, white, and blue. The outermost border is a wide, light-colored band with a repeating floral motif. The rug has a fringed edge. It is displayed in a room with other rugs visible in the background.
